TREATMENT

After claim closure

RCW 51.36.010 permits the Director to exercise discretion to provide continued treatment in circumstances other than claims closed with a total permanent disability determination. The decision of In re David Malmberg, Dckt. No. 86 1326 (November 12, 1987), to the extent that the Board concluded that the statute only applied in circumstances of total permanent disability, is overruled. ...In re Debra Reichlin, BIIA Dec., 00 15943 (2003) [Editor's Note: Overruled, Department of Labor & Indus. v. Slauch, 177 Wn. App. 439 (2013)]. The court held that the final proviso of RCW 51.36.010(4) granting discretion to the supervisor to authorize continued life-sustaining treatment plainly applies only in case of permanent total disability.]

15 The Office of the Attorney General, per 16 Steven J. Nash, Assistant 17

18 The claimant, Debra L. Reichlin, filed an appeal with the Board of Industrial Insurance 19 Appeals on May 30, 2000, from an order of the Department of Labor and Industries dated May 10, 20 2000, and letters the Department sent to Ms. Reichlin's legal representative on May 10, 2000 and 21 May 24, 2000. In its order of May 10, 2000, the Department affirmed the provisions of an order 22 dated February 23, 2000. In that order, the Department declared that, in accordance with an order 23 of the Board of Industrial Insurance Appeals dated February 15, 2000, the claim was closed with 24 compensation for permanent partial disability equal to 25 percent as compared to total bodily 25 impairment for unspecified disabilities. In its letter of May 10, 2000, the Department declared that it 26 would not pay for ongoing medical treatment or medicines after the date it closed a claim with 27 compensation for permanent partial disability. In its letter of May 24, 2000, the Department 28 declared that under WAC 296-20-124, it lacked authority to pay for ongoing medications or medical 29 treatment after the date a claim had been closed with compensation for permanent partial disability, 30 as opposed to compensation for permanent total disability. The Department order is REVERSED

39 EVIDENTIARY AND PROCEDURAL MATTERS

40 Pursuant to RCW 51.52.104 and RCW 51.52.106, this matter is before the Board for review 41 and decision on timely Petitions for Review filed by the claimant and the Department to a Proposed 42 Decision and Order issued on March 26, 2003, in which the industrial appeals judge affirmed the 43 order of the Department dated May 10, 2000, and its letters of May 10, 2000 and May 24, 2000.

1 The Board has reviewed the evidentiary rulings in the record of proceedings and finds that 2 no prejudicial error was committed. The rulings are affirmed.

4 DECISION

5 The issue raised by Ms. Reichlin in this appeal is whether RCW 51.36.010, that permits the 6 Director of the Department of Labor and Industries to exercise discretion to provide continued 7 treatment under certain circumstances, only applies to claims closed with total permanent disability 8 (TPD), and not to claims closed with permanent partial disability (PPD). Ms. Reichlin seeks 9 ongoing medication for her serious occupational asthma. We have granted review because we 10 determine the Director has discretion to provide ongoing treatment in a claim closed with 11 permanent partial disability. We have granted review because we 12 determine the Director has discretion to provide ongoing treatment in a claim closed with 13 permanent partial disability.

16 In its Petition for Review, the Department agrees with our industrial appeals judge's 17 disposition of the case. However, the Department contends that additional findings of fact and 18 conclusions of law should have been made relevant to the merits of the case. The Proposed 19 Decision and Order makes a jurisdictional finding and then a finding that there is no genuine issue 20 of material fact. The conclusions of law include a jurisdictional statement, and conclude that the 21 Department is entitled to a Summary Judgment and that its order should be affirmed.

24 In this case, the matter was submitted by stipulated facts. The submission of the stipulated 25 facts was followed by a Motion for Summary Judgment by the Department. We agree with our 26 industrial appeals judge that, in cases decided by Summary Judgment, no findings and conclusions 27 of the factual merits of the case are legally necessary. The law requires only findings on material, 28 contested issues. Nevertheless, making findings and conclusions is not prohibited, and can be 29 useful for purposes of clarity for the reader, and particularly to give a context to the directive to the 30 Department. For that reason, in this case, we make findings and conclusions consistent with the 31 stipulated facts.
32
33

34 Ms. Reichlin petitions from our industrial appeals judge's determination that RCW 51.36.010
35 does not allow the Director to exercise his discretion to continue treatment after claim closure 36 except in cases of TPD. In letters supporting its decision not to continue treatment for asthma after 37 claim closure, the Department cited WAC 296-20-124, which states that treatment cannot continue 38 after claim closure. That provision does not mention the Director's discretion to allow continued 39 treatment, as set forth in the statute, however, and the WAC provision cannot be read to narrow it.
40 It is the statute, therefore, that must be addressed. Our industrial appeals judge followed a 41 non-significant Board decision, In re David Malmberg, Dckt. No. 86 1326 (November 12, 1987), as 42
43
44
45
46
47

1 was necessary under the circumstances. In that case, the Board stated, without explanation, that 2 the statutory discretion for continued treatment under RCW 51.36.010 applies only to cases of 3 permanent total disability. We agree with the special concurring opinion in the Malmberg case and 4 with the Petition for Review that there is absolutely nothing in the statute that prevents the Director 5 from exercising discretion to provide continued treatment in the case of any claim that has been 6 closed. To the extent that this holding is inconsistent with Malmberg, that case is hereby overruled.

10 This claim has an interesting procedural history. Ms. Reichlin originally filed a timely appeal 11 from a May 10, 2000 Department order; a letter of the same date, as well as a letter dated May 24, 12 2000. The May 10, 2000 order affirmed a prior order in which the Department closed the claim in 13 accordance with a Board order of February 15, 2000, with an award for disability equal to 14 25 percent of total bodily impairment (TBI) for unspecified disabilities caused by her respiratory 15 problems. The two letters stated that the Department could not pay for ongoing medications; the 16 May 24, 2000 letter also cited the above-mentioned WAC 296-20-124, that states that treatment
17 cannot continue after claim closure, though it provides for prosthetics. According to the stipulated 18 facts, the Board decided that the May 10, 2000 order was ministerial and dismissed that appeal for 19 lack of subject matter jurisdiction. A superior court decided that, when considering the 20 correspondence accompanying and following the order that dealt with matters not addressed by the 21 earlier Board decision, the May 10, 2000 order was more than ministerial. The case was remanded 22 to the Board to adjudicate the issue of entitlement to continued medical care after claim closure.

29 RCW 51.36.010 provides, in pertinent part:
30

31 § 51.36.010 Extent and duration.
32

33 Upon the occurrence of any injury to a worker entitled to 34 compensation under the provisions of this title, he or she shall receive 35 proper and necessary medical and surgical services at the hands of a 36 physician of his or her own choice, if conveniently located, and proper 37 and necessary hospital care and services during the period of his or her 38 disability from such injury, but the same shall be limited in point of 39 duration as follows:

40 In the case of permanent partial disability, not to extend beyond 41 the date when compensation shall be awarded him or her, except when 42 the worker returned to work before permanent partial disability award is 43 made, in such case not to extend beyond the time when monthly 44 allowances to him or her shall cease; in case of temporary disability not 45 to extend beyond the time when monthly allowances to him or her shall 46 cease: PROVIDED, That after any injured worker has returned to his or 47 her work his or her medical and surgical treatment may be continued if, and so long as, such continuation is deemed necessary by the

1 supervisor of industrial insurance to be necessary to his or her more 2 complete recovery; in case of a permanent total disability not to extend 3 beyond the date on which a lump sum settlement is made with him or 4 her or he or she is placed upon the permanent pension roll: PROVIDED, 5 HOWEVER, That the supervisor of industrial insurance, solely in 6 his or her discretion, may authorize continued medical and 7 surgical treatment for conditions previously accepted by the 8 department when such medical and surgical treatment is deemed 9 necessary by the supervisor of industrial insurance to protect such 10 worker's life or provide for the administration of medical and 11 therapeutic measures including payment of prescription
12 medications, but not including those controlled substances
13 currently scheduled by the state board of pharmacy as Schedule I, 14 II, III, or IV substances under chapter 69.50 RCW, which are 15 necessary to alleviate continuing pain which results from the 16 industrial injury. In order to authorize such continued treatment the 17 written order of the supervisor of industrial insurance issued in advance
18 of the continuation shall be necessary. (Emphasis added.)
19

20 The section of the statute that is material to this case is the final proviso that states the 21 supervisor of industrial insurance, in his sole discretion, may authorize continued medical and 22 surgical treatment for accepted conditions to protect the worker's life or to provide for the 23 administration of medical and therapeutic measures, including (non-narcotic) prescription 24 medications that are necessary to alleviate continuing pain. As stated in the Malmberg 25 concurrence and in the claimant's Petition for Review, that proviso follows the discussion of 26 treatment for both PPD and TPD workers. There is no distinction made in the proviso.
27 Although the more typical course for a worker whose claim has been closed would be to apply to 28 reopen for further treatment if the condition has worsened, given the nature of certain illnesses like 29 asthma, that can be life threatening or with acute temporary flare-ups, that process is not of much 30 benefit.
31

32 The rules of statutory construction dictate that absent some obvious ambiguity, the words of 33 the statute must be given their plain meaning. This statute read as a whole does not limit the 34 discretion to provide continued treatment to TPD cases. That interpretation is also contrary to the 35 plain statutory language and is contrary to the principle that any doubt, though we do not believe 36 that there is really any doubt here, should be resolved in favor of the worker. We note that under 37 certain circumstances, the Department does provide continued treatment in PPD cases—for 38 example, prostheses or hearing aids and what is associated with providing them. All that is sought 39 here is that the Director exercises his discretion, and finds that RCW 51.36.010 provides for that

2 exercise his discretion.

4 FINDINGS OF FACT

6 1. On November 13, 1995, the claimant, Debra L. Reichlin, filed an 7 application for benefits with the Department of Labor and Industries, 8 alleging that she had developed a disabling respiratory ailment on 9 November 5, 1995, proximately caused by an exposure to propane gas 10 during the course of her employment with Broadway Truck Stop. On 11 June 23, 1997, the Department issued an order that allowed the claim 12 for benefits, determined that the injury event had proximately caused 13 mucosal and respiratory irritation, and closed the claim with no 14 compensation for permanent partial disability. Ms. Reichlin protested 15 the order on July 17, 1997, but the Department affirmed the provisions 16 of the order on January 12, 1999. On January 28, 1999, Ms. Reichlin 17 filed a Notice of Appeal with the Board of Industrial Insurance Appeals 18 from the order. This Board assigned the appeal Docket No. 99 11058 19 and granted the appeal on February 26, 1999. The Board ordered that 20 further proceedings be held in the appeal.
21

22 On January 13, 2000, a Proposed Decision and Order was issued in the 23 appeal, which reversed the January 12, 1999 Department order and 24 remanded the claim to the Department with directions to issue an order 25 that closed the claim with compensation for permanent partial disability 26 equal to 25 percent as compared to total bodily impairment for 27 unspecified disabilities. On February 15, 2000, the Board issued an 28 Order Adopting Proposed Decision and Order.
29

30 On February 23, 2000, the Department issued an order in accordance 31 with the Board's order. The claimant protested the order on March 29, 32 2000, but the Department affirmed the provisions of the order on 33 May 10, 2000. Also on May 10, 2000, the Department sent a letter to 34 Ms. Reichlin's legal representative, in which the agency declared that it 35 would not pay for ongoing medicine or medical treatment after the date 36 the claim was closed with compensation for permanent partial disability.
37 On May 24, 2000, the Department sent another letter to the claimant's 38 legal representative, in which it declared that in accordance with 39 WAC 296-20-124, the Department would not pay for ongoing 40 medications after the date it closed Ms. Reichlin's claim because her 41 claim was closed with compensation for permanent partial disability, not 42 compensation for permanent total disability. On May 30, 2000, the 43 claimant filed a Notice of Appeal with this Board from the May 10, 2000
44 Department order. This Board assigned the appeal Docket 45 No. 00 15943 and granted the appeal on June 12, 2000. The Board 46 ordered that further proceedings be held in the appeal.
47

1 On February 12, 2001, a Proposed Decision and Order was issued in 2 the appeal, which dismissed the appeal on the grounds that the Board 3 lacked subject matter jurisdiction over the appeal. On April 30, 2001, 4 the Board issued an order Denying Petition for Review.

6 Ms. Reichlin filed a Notice of Appeal of the Board's April 30, 2001 order 7 with Grant County Superior Court on May 8, 2001. The superior court 8 assigned the appeal Cause No. 01-2-00489-8. On July 24, 2002, the 9 Grant County Superior Court issued an Order Granting Plaintiff's Motion 10 for Summary Judgment in the matter. The order reversed the April 30, 11 2001 Board order and remanded the appeal to this Board, with 12 directions to further adjudicate the appeal after deeming the content of 13 the May 10, 2000 and May 24, 2000 Department letters to Ms. Reichlin's 14 attorney as part of the order on appeal. The superior court order was 15 filed with this Board on August 5, 2002.
16

17 On August 29, 2002, the Board issued a Notice Assigning Case to 18 Industrial Appeals Judge for Hearing.
19

- 20 2. On November 5, 1995, the claimant, Debra L. Reichlin, sustained a 21 disabling industrial injury when she was exposed to propane gas during 22 the course of her employment with Broadway Truck Stop.
23
- 24 3. As of May 10, 2000, as a proximate cause of her industrial exposure, 25 Debra L. Reichlin developed hyper-reactive and/or reactive airways 26 disease, otherwise known as occupational asthma.
27
- 28 4. As of May 10, 2000, on a medically more probable than not basis, the 29 claimant's condition, proximately caused by her industrial exposure, had 30 reached maximum medical improvement, best described as 25 percent 31 of total bodily impairment for unspecified disabilities.
32
- 33 5. Between February 21, 1996 and May 10, 2000, as a result of the 34 condition, proximately caused by her industrial exposure, Ms. Reichlin 35 has been prescribed necessary and proper cortisone type inhalant 36 medications, such as Accolade, to reduce airway inflammation, and also 37 medication to reduce airway irritability.
38
- 39 6. Because of her reactive airways disease, proximately caused by her 40 industrial exposure, Ms. Reichlin is more susceptible to superimposed 41 bacterial infection. Between February 21, 1996 and May 10, 2000, 42 Ms. Reichlin has been treated with antibiotics for such infections.
43
- 44 7. As of May 10, 2000, Ms. Reichlin's condition, proximately caused by her 45 industrial exposure, requires ongoing treatment and medical monitoring 46 to prevent worsening and to treat exacerbations that are life threatening.
47 This treatment is medically necessary to protect the claimant's life, and/or to provide for the administration of medical and therapeutic

1 measures to alleviate ongoing pain and problems resulting from the 2 injury.

- 3
- 4 8. The documents filed in this appeal by the parties demonstrate that there 5 is no genuine issue as to any material fact, and the above Findings of 6 Fact are set forth in accordance with the parties' Stipulations of Fact.
- 8 9. The Director of the Department of Labor and Industries has not 9 exercised his discretion on the issue of whether to provide ongoing 10 treatment for Ms. Reichlin's life-threatening occupational asthma, under 11 RCW 51.36.010.
12

13 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

- 14
- 15 1. The Board of Industrial Insurance Appeals has jurisdiction over the 16 parties to and the subject matter of this appeal.
17
- 18 2. RCW 51.36.010 provides that the Director may exercise his discretion to 19 provide ongoing treatment in a claim closed with permanent partial 20 disability to protect such worker's life or provide for the administration of 21 necessary medical and therapeutic measures.
22
- 23 3. The Department order of May 10, 2000 and letters of May 10, 2000 and 24 May 24, 2000, are reversed. This matter is remanded to the Director of 25 the Department of Labor and Industries to exercise his discretion on the 26 issue of allowing continued treatment to Ms. Reichlin, pursuant to 27 RCW 51.36.010.
28

29 It is so ORDERED.
