APPEARANCES:

Claimant, Michael J. Morrissey, by Patrick H. Lepley

Employer, Evergreen General Contractors, Inc.,

Department of Labor and Industries, by The Attorney General, per John D. Fairley, Assistant

This is an appeal filed by the claimant on January 27, 1984 from an order of the Department of Labor and Industries dated January 11, 1984, which declared a statutory lien against a $35,000.00 recovery made by the claimant from his employer's underinsured motorist insurance carrier and demanded reimbursement. Reversed and remanded.

DECISION

Pursuant to RCW 51.52.104 and RCW 51.52.106, this matter is before the Board for review and decision on a timely Petition for Review filed by the claimant to a Proposed Decision and Order issued on September 4, 1984 in which the order of the Department dated January 11, 1984 was affirmed.

The general nature and background of this appeal are as set forth in the Proposed Decision and Order, and shall not be reiterated herein.

The question which the Board is called upon to decide by this appeal is purely a legal one, to wit: Is a worker's recovery under his employer's underinsured (uninsured) motorist insurance policy a "third person" recovery within the meaning of RCW 51.24, and thereby subject to the Department's reimbursement lien as prescribed by RCW 51.24.060(2)?

We begin by noting that there is no Washington case law in point. Although one of first impression in this state, the question has been determined in a number of other jurisdictions. Unfortunately, the 1 out-of-state cases come down on both sides of the question. Moreover, 2 because each state has its own peculiar "third party" statutory 3 language, there is no single precedent to provide salutary guidance.

4 In short, we are confronted with a division of persuasive authority.

5 Those jurisdictions which find a recovery under the employer's 6 uninsured motorist policy to be a "third party" recovery, and thus 7 subject to the workers' compensation carrier's lien, do so on either 8 of the following two grounds:

- 9 1. The express language used in the statute to define 10 the term "third person/party" contemplates a 11 recovery under an uninsured motorist policy;
12
- 13 2. The court's refusal to impute to the lawmakers' 14 the intent that an employee-accident victim of an 15 uninsured driver should fare better monetarily
16 than an employee-accident victim of an insured
17 driver.
18

19 For an example of each ground see Johnson v. Fireman's Fund
20 Insurance Company, (La.) 425 So.2d 224 (1983); and Montedoro v. City
21 of Asbury Park, (N.J.) 416 Atl.2d 433 (1980), respectively.

22 On the other hand, those cases which find that an uninsured 23 motorist recovery does not constitute a "third party" recovery and is 24 therefore free of the compensation carrier's lien do so, almost 25 uniformly, on the ground that the statutory "third party" must be 26 a tortfeasor, and an uninsured motorist insurance recovery does not 27 sound in tort, but in contract. The leading case under this 28 rationale, with citations therein to supporting case law from seven 29 jurisdictions, is Knight v. Insurance Company of North America, 30 647 F.2d 127 (1981).

31 Focusing upon the case at hand, RCW 51.24.030, the enabling 32 statutory provision which grants the worker a third party cause of 33 action, reads:

34 "If the injury to a worker is due to the negligence 35 or wrong of a third person not in the same employ, 36 the injured worker or beneficiary may elect to seek 37 damages from the third person." (Emphasis supplied)
38

1 If the cause of action granted by this section is for the 2 "negligence or wrong" of a third person, then it is certainly arguable 3 that any resulting recovery must sound in tort to qualify as a third 4 person/party recovery subject to a departmental lien of reimbursement.

5 This, however, would fail to explain Lundeen v. Department of Labor
6 and Industries, 78 Wn.2d 66 (1970), wherein our court held that a 7 worker's recovery under the Military Claims Act (under which relief 8 is not predicated upon any "fault, negligence, or wrong") 9 constituted a third party recovery under RCW 51.24, and was therefore 10 subject to the Department's lien. Key to the court's decision was the 11 fact that the worker's recovery under the Military Claims Act
12 foreclosed any claim or recovery under the Tort Claims Act, thereby 13 terminating the Department's right of subrogation. From this 14 holding, it may be taken that a recovery that does away with a 15 tortious cause of action, will, in effect, be deemed a substitute 16 therefor, and treated as a recovery against a tortious third party.
17 For a like approach with the same result, see McDowell v. LaVoy, 498
18 N.Y.2d 148 (1978). But in the case before us, the Department's right 19 of subrogation is not terminated by the benefit accruing to Mr.
20 Morrissey. In fact, the Department could still pursue direct recovery 21 against the tortfeasor here.

22 It seems to us the question for decision herein begets a further 23 question of its own. What claim would the Department have against 24 the uninsured motorist carrier had the worker herein made no claim 25 against the uninsured motorist carrier, but instead elected to take 26 solely under the Act? The answer, we believe, is "none". The 27 uninsured motorist carrier did not insure the uninsured motorist 28 (tortfeasor) against liability. The liability of the uninsured 29 motorist carrier itself is strictly contractual. The Department is 30 neither an insured nor a third party beneficiary under the contract 31 of insurance between the uninsured motorist carrier and the employer.
32

1 Under the hypothetical proposed, the Department's only claim
2 would be against the uninsured motorist, the tortfeasor.

3 The same, we think, holds true in the situation before us. As 4 stated in Horne v. Superior Life Insurance Company, 203 Va. 282, 5 128 S.E.2d 401 (1962):

6 "It is not the purpose of the uninsured motorist law
7 to provide coverage for the uninsured vehicle..."

9 The proceeds of the uninsured motorist insurance policy are not 10 paid out as indemnification for, or in discharge of, the uninsured 11 motorist's liability. The liability of the uninsured motorist remains 12 intact, as does the Department's lien rights against any eventual 13 recovery from the uninsured motorist. In this regard, it is to be 14 noted that the uninsured motorist carrier, American States Insurance 15 Company, has commenced an action in the claimant's name against the 16 uninsured motorist. Although academic to our consideration herein, 17 we would further note that RCW 48.22.040(3) of the underinsured 18 motorist statute provides in relevant part:

19 "In the event of a payment to an insured under the coverage 20 required by this chapter and subject to the terms and 21 conditions of such coverage, the insurer making such 22 payment shall, to the extent thereof, be entitled to 23 the proceeds of any settlement or judgment resulting 24 from the exercise of any rights of recovery of such 25 insured against any person or organization legally 26 responsible for the bodily injury, death, or property 27 damage for which such payment is made..."
28

29 Thus, there could eventuate competing claims between the 30 Department, under its subrogated right of lien under RCW 51.24.060(2), 31 and American States, through its entitlement under RCW 48.22.040(3), 32 to any recovery secured in the claimant's name against the uninsured 33 motorist. As previously indicated, however, any question as to 34 competing or conflicting claims between the Department and American 35 States is academic to the resolution of the legal issue before us.
36 We would end this digression by merely noting that this very question 37 of competing statutory claims was presented for decision in Horne, 38 supra, and it was therein held that the reimbursement claim of the 1 worker's compensation carrier would take precedence over that of the 2 uninsured motorist carrier against any recovery from the uninsured 3 motorist.

4 In sum, we hold that a worker's recovery under his employer's 5 uninsured motorist insurance policy is not a "third person" recovery 6 within the purview of RCW 51.24, and is therefore not subject to the 7 Department's reimbursement lien as prescribed by RCW 51.24.060(2).

8 All factual matters having been stipulated, no findings are 9 required. RCW 51.52.106.

10 The order of the Department of Labor and Industries dated 11 January 11, 1984, declaring a statutory lien in the sum of $24,377.54
12 against the claimant's recovery from his employer's underinsured 13 motorist carrier in the sum of $35,000.00, and demanding reimbursement 14 in the amount of said lien, is incorrect, and should be reversed.

15 It is so ORDERED.
16 Dated this 15th day of March, 1985.

32 DISSENTING OPINION

34 I disagree with the majority's decision. All reasons for doing 35 so are completely and persuasively set forth in the industrial appeals
36 judge's Proposed Decision and Order, and I adopt the entire discussion 37 therein as my own.

38 I believe the holdings set forth by Johnson v. Fireman's Fund
39 Insurance Company, (La.) 425 So.2d 224 (1983), and Montedoro v. City 40 of Asbury Park, (N.J.) 416 Atl.2d 433 (1980), are the principles which 41 should apply in this jurisdiction, also. In addition, I quote from

Larson on Workers Compensation Law, Vol. 2A, Sec. 71.23(i), stating:
"When it is the employer's uninsured motorist policy [not the employee's own such policy] that is involved, one of the strongest arguments against any lien or offset disappears--the argument that the employee should not be deprived of the benefits of a privately-purchased insurance contract that he has paid for himself..." (Emphasis added)

The claimant's recovery from the employer's underinsured motorist carrier should be properly considered a third-party recovery subject to the lien and distribution provisions of RCW 51.24. I would affirm the Department's order dated January 11, 1984.
Dated this 15th day of March, 1985.
