APPEALABLE ORDERS

Orders held in abeyance (RCW 51.52.060)

DEPARTMENT

Reassumption of jurisdiction (RCW 51.52.060)

Where the Department has held an order which has been appealed to the Board in abeyance pending further consideration, it must enter a further order within the time allowed by RCW 51.52.060. However, the failure of the Department to issue a further order within the time allowed does not make the order held in abeyance appealable. Such order is not a final order of the Department. ...In re Coni Oakes, BIA Dec., 90 1968 (1990)

Scroll down for order.

1 We would ordinarily direct the Department to forthwith issue a further order as required by
2 RCW 51.52.060. However, it appears that on May 4, 1990 the Department issued a further order
3 which set aside the order of August 29, 1989 and held it for naught, directing that the claim remain
4 open for authorized treatment and action as indicated. The denial of these appeals is without
5 prejudice to the right of any party to appeal the order of May 4, 1990.
